New from Adair is our On-Demand Composition System.

The Adair On-Demand Composition System is a web based solution that produces PDF files suitable for printing and posting on web sites. This system is designed for those who have data management systems but need more flexibility with printed materials.

The Adair team developed this solution after working with many customers over the years and seeing that there was a void when it came to complex or out of the ordinary data or page layout requirements. The solution is a system that allows for complex page layouts from a wide variety of data sources.

As a leading print solutions provider, Adair is committed to providing the best solutions to meet our customers' needs. Founded in 1931, Adair is still a family owned and operated business that listens to and values our customers. Adair has grown and prospered to become one of Michigan's premier printing companies.

We are dedicated to providing complete publishing, printing and information delivery solutions to meet the changing needs of our clients. If you are not taking advantage of all that Adair has to offer, we challenge you to try us and see the Adair Advantage!
